

Ilja Rudyk

Ilja Rudyk is Senior Economist in the Chief Economist Unit of the European Patent Office. The Chief Economist Unit was set up to provide economic insight into issues relating to patents, innovation and economic growth. It aims to contribute high level expertise and analysis to public and expert forums and to foster well-informed debate.

Before joining the EPO Ilja was working as researcher at the Max Planck Institute for Innovation and Competition. He holds a PhD in economics from the University of Munich.