Corporate Sustainability and CSR

	Sustainability and CSR
Module title / Applicability (Basics, Extension module)	Corporate Sustainability and CSR Grundlagen IMM Vertiefung IMM
Module title / Applicability (Basics, Extension module)	Dr. Elisabeth Müller Dr. Ágnes Zsóka (Corvinus Universität Budapest)
Frequency and duration of the course	Once in summer semester 2017 (Block course) 1 Semester
Module content	The course aims to highlight the most important issues of Corporate Sustainability and Social Responsibility. Due to the challenges of our rapidly changing world like mitigation of climate change impacts, the need for radical (system) innovation, or solving social, environmental and economic problems simultaneously, the triple bottom line has become a business case in the corporate world. The course focuses on exploring the drivers behind Corporate Sustainability and CSR strategy and the implications of sustainability challenges to corporate reality.
Course objectives	 Understanding the relationship between sustainable development and corporate sustainability. Understanding why it is necessary to integrate social and environmental aspects into corporate strategy. Understanding the motives and influential factors behind the CSR activity of companies. Becoming familiar with the most crucial and critical issues of practiced CSR today, as a result of lectures, discussions and analyzed cases. Critical assessment of corporate sustainability reporting.
Teaching methods	 Lectures on the theoretical contents Discussion of contents (also in teams) Presentation of specific topics by the students Analysis of corporate sustainability reports and sustainability indicators
Requirements	Gem. § 3 der Studien- und Prüfungsordnung für den Masterstudiengang Business Administration
Applicability of the module in the appropriate degree program, for other modules and courses of studies	The module may be accredited in the basics- or extension module in the field of "International Management and Marketing". It also applies for all courses of studies that wish to offer their students possibilities in this specific area.

Distribution / Worklo	bad:				_
Course		SWS	LP / ECTS
Lecture			2
Sum			2	5	_
Guill			2	5
	workload (every sem./ re expected, which lea
	Attendan	ice (in hrs.)	Self-study (in hrs.)		_
Lecture	30		120		_
			120
Type of exam / Requirements for the granting of credits / Duration of exam Weighting of individual performances/ final mark Rationale for partial performances		Summary of a scientific article in written form, max. 6 pages Presentation in team, 20 minutes Individual analysis of sustainability indicators, 5 pages plus reporting on it in the class Participation in the lectures and seminars, contribution to discussions, according to depth and activity
		 Summary of a scientific article in written form – 25% Presentation in team – 25% Individual analysis of sustainability indicators – 25% Participation at the lectures and seminars, contribution to discussions – 25%
		The final mark is composed of different written and oral partial performances. Next to the written summary and analysis, the presentation of teamwork, oral contributions to discussions, and communicating one's arguments are important competences in the academic and professional context and thus considerably add to the individual learning outcomes.
Other remarks (e.g. Online-component, practical examples, guest lectures, etc.)		Please follow the updates on the webpage of the Chair of International Management (http://www.wiwi.uni-passau.de/internationales- management/) for further important information on this course!
_		Language of the le
Recommended liter	ature	 CSR, UN Globa Important docu Reporting Guid AccountAbility Dyllick, Thoma Business Case Strategy and th Fassin, Yves (2 ethical Behavio 	al Compact, I ments for Su lelines of GR s – Hockerts, for Corporat he Environme 2005): The Ro pur in Busines ness Ethics,	stainability: Sustain I, Dow Jones Indice Kai (2002): Beyon e Sustainability, Bu nt 11, pp 130-141. easons behind Nor ss and Entrepreneu 60, pp. 265–279	nability es, nd the usiness n- urship,

 Corporate Social Responsibility: Strategic Implications. Journal of Management Studies. Vol. 43:1, pp. 1-18. Porter, M. – Kramer, M. (2006): The Link between Competitive Advantage and CSR, Strategy and Society. Harvard Business Review, 1-15 Porter, M. – Kramer, M. (2011):Creating Shared Value, Harvard Business Review, January-February,
1-17